UTAH CONSTRUCTION COMPANY HAS MUCH WORK IN HAND

A contract just secured by the Utah Construction company for grading on the Oregon Short Line is extensive from the fact that it takes in five states. The work includes numerous items of betterment work, under the direction of the maintenance of way engineer, already planned or to be planned during the coming fiscal year. It means the construction of new side-tracks, lengthening of passing tracks, building of industry spurs and numerous other pieces of grading work in Utah, Wyoming, Idaho, Montana and Oregon. It takes in all this class of betterment work on the main line and all the branches.

Probably the most important part of the contract centered in any one district, according to information given out today at the construction company offices, is the widening of all lava rock cuts into Beaver canyon, Idaho. The plan is to extend the excavations into the bluff so that cuts cannot fill with snow or, if they do fill, can be cleared by the use of the snow plows. The company is already assembling a large camp for the Beaver canyon work and has started work at Granger, Wyo.; Lonsdale, Byrne, Murtaugh and Ticeka in Idaho.

EXCELLENT WORK OF THE RED CROSS IN OGDEN

This is the last day of the Ogdien City canvass for the Red Cross fund. The various committees are actively engaged in the final solicitation in their separate districts and have given their word that, with the exception of those who are working among men who are not all the time in town, like the engineers, firemen and trainmen and postal clerks, that all the local work will be completed by night. Those who cannot get the returns in this evening will be given added time. The national campaign closes on Monday next at 7 p. m.

The work of making complete tabulations is a colossal one. Two committees have been at work on adding machines and typewriters making a manifold list of the pledges and adding the amounts, but as the pledge cards are coming in very fast, they do not gain very much on the pile of signed cards. It is estimated that there are about three thousand pledges in at present and these not only vary from small amounts to large sums, but they all differ in regard to the time and method of payment also. A few are to be paid in a sum at a future date, and some are to be met in several installments, and these dates of installment vary as the pay rolls of the several institutions differ. Some have paid part and some have paid all, and most have only specified the time of the payments. All this makes the task of accounting and tabulating and adding the lists a work of a genuine bookkeeper and one that takes time to secure accuracy as well.

One of the surprises of yesterday was the number of pledges and the payments made in the booth at McIntyre's drug store. Over three hundred dollars was the amount secured there by loyal citizens who came in and paid or subscribed of their own free will. Mrs. John Moffat will be there again all afternoon to help secure pledges.

The canvass has been made in the best spirit and all who have given are hoping that the list, when added, will run as high as $55,000. The quota for Ogdien, if Ogdien is to keep faith with Utah and Salt Lake, will be at least that amount. Most everyone expressed the hope that Ogdien will not fall below Provo, Logan, Salt Lake and the other leading cities of the state in putting the state in a place far ahead of all the states of the country in patriotism. The eastern papers have spoken of Utah as the one great surprise of the country in this campaign. At the Denver convention, there were some who thought that Utah could not raise the amount assigned to her. The Utah delegates had hard work making them believe that Utah would be in line. Now that all of the state has met a new mark. It remains for Ogdien to keep step and go with the state. Much of this will depend upon the country meetings tomorrow. It is hoped that they will do as the city has done. There will be opportunities at the Sunday meetings for all to do their share in the country wards and it is hoped that enough will be done to add at least $2,100 to the county list.

Last night pledges to the amount of $1,087 were reported for the canvass of the day in the city. W. H. Wattis, of the local committee, has received a telegram of congratulation from the state committee in Utah on the good work done in Ogdien.

At Old Position—Henry Shultz has disposed of his interest in the Superior Cleaning company and is again at his former position with the Ogdien Steam Laundry.

A. VERNON HODGE IS DROWNED IN NEVADA

Word has been received of the death of A. Vernon Hodge by drowning. The telegram announcing the accident was received by the father, A. M. Hodge, 427 Twenty-seventh street, last night. It stated that the young man was drowned in a stream near the ranch where he was working, about sixteen miles from Reno.

Young Hodge was 23 years of age, and was well known in Ogdien, where he had resided the major part of his life.

The father will leave for Reno this afternoon to bring the remains home for burial.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

CONFERENCE TO BE HELD ON SUNDAY

kins has arranged a special musical program for both meetings. There are no complete returns from the wards of Box Elder county on the collection of Red Cross funds. The third ward had things so arranged on Thursday that the whole ward was canvassed in two hours and thirty-two canvassers began work at 7 a. m. and reported at the ward chapel in a body two hours later. The total collection in the two hours in that ward was $1,060.15. The other wards of the city will run close to this mark.
